

Thomaston, Connecticut—2023

Father Joseph Crowley, pastor of St. Thomas Church (St. Maximilian Kolbe Parish) said there may have been a Eucharistic Miracle at the church in March of 2023. “What happened is Our Lord multiplied Himself,” Crowley said.

A Eucharistic minister was distributing communion, at which time a miracle happened. The number of hosts that the minister had actually went up instead of down.

“The Eucharist really is the body, soul and divinity of Jesus Christ, and that all things are possible with God. Very powerful, very awesome, very real, very shocking. But also, it happens, and today it happened.” said Crowley.

When the minister was running out of hosts to distribute, Crowley said they glanced around to find more, but when the minister looked back down, more Hosts had appeared. By the time the communion was over, Crowley said there seemed to be either as many or possibly even more hosts in the ciborium than there were when he had first handed it to the minister.

“I think this is just a beautiful reminder from God during times that are challenging there’s always good in the world and that God is always present and with us,” Shaina Pia of Stratford said.

“This was one of those moments where God showed up in a very powerful, powerful way here.” Crowley said.

The Archdiocese of Hartford is looking into this possible miracle.
